Then and Now: A History of Mattapoisett Grange No. 215

By Earle D. Wilson

Read January 19, 1967 at the 70th Anniversary

There is no more enthralling reading than the perusal of history and the history of Mattapoisett Grange makes interesting, informative and entertaining reading. On each anniversary, the writing of the history becomes easier, since histories written for previous such celebrations are available for reference and use.

The Grange has now attained the ripe old age of 70 at approximately the same time that the National Grange — just about old enough to be its mother — reaches its centennial. The list of officers and others in Mattapoisett Grange reads like a "Who's Who" of the town.

On January 22, 1897, in Purrington Hall, a meeting for the purpose of organizing the Grange was held, with a Grange deputy presiding. Following a few remarks, the names of 28 persons to be Charter Members were obtained. Four days later, 21 of these met at the home of Edwin F. Hammond and named three or four committees. It was on that evening that it was voted to hold meetings on the first and third Thursday nights each month, "to commence at 7:45 o'clock until May when they are to begin at 8 o'clock." Seventy years later, the Grange still meets on the first and third Thursday.

Meeting by meeting, attendance at those early Grange meetings slowly increased. Discussions on a variety of topics were the popular and frequent programs provided by the lecturer. The Grange still has discussions but not always during the lecturer's program!

An interesting item recorded by Grange secretary, Cora M. Denham, for an October meeting in 1900 lists a mouth-watering report on the feast-table after the meeting. It included salads, cold ham, cold roast beef and pork, chicken pie, baked beans, apple, mince, custard and squash pies, many kinds of cake, hot biscuits, pickles, coffee and many kinds of fruit. Apparently, Grangers were as good trenchermen in those days as they are in 1967!

The secretary reported that one male Granger ate so much at that feast that the tires of his bicycle gave out and he had to walk home, which, perhaps, was all the better for him.

Building a horse shed for the convenience of members and their horses was an early project for the Grange and money for it was raised in a great variety of ways.

In April, 1907, Grange brothers had charge of the program which was as follows: Reading, Henry L. Denham; talk on nursing, Dr. Walter E. Blaine; remarks, Charles T. Dexter; exhibition of legerdemain by Attorney J.E. Norton Shaw and a reading by the Worthy Master. Mrs. Alice W. Ashley was secretary at the time.

Stepping along quickly now we come to the February meeting of 1917 and quote from a report of the Grange's 20th anniversary appearing in the March 1 issue of the Mattapoissett Courier. More than 60 persons gathered in the recently acquired Mattapoissett Academy-Barstow Building still owned by the Grange to celebrate the event. Sixteen of the charter members were still living in 1917.

On that date, Dr. Blaine was master, Mrs. Jane Stanton, secretary and Charles W. Ellis Jr., overseer. Incidentally, Mrs. Stanton continued for many years in the office of secretary. It was stated at the observance that, after meeting for some time in Purrington Hall, the Grange met for a period in private homes until purchase of the present building in 1915. There was a chicken pie supper to mark the occasion.

A delightful, rhymed "last will and testament" was read. The evening closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" by all in attendance.

Records of Mattapoissett Grange still extant are in several books, beginning with June 25, 1915, through April 15, 1920. As secretaries came and went, handwriting in the book varies greatly until Mrs. Stanton went into office, when it became uniform for a long, long time. The same year the new hall was purchased, the Grange was incorporated, with a Constitution and by-laws.

The Charter of Mattapoissett Grange No. 215, Incorporated, is dated October 13, 1915, and hangs on the wall of the meeting hall, which, it may be interesting to note, originally cost only a few hundred dollars more to buy than it cost a few months ago to paint and repair it. The amount was $1,975, with a mortgage for $1,250. The mortgage was burned in April, 1930, approximately 15 years later. Charles T. Dexter did the burning.

The building was dedicated in 1919 at impressive exercises. Kerosene lamps lighted the hall during its early use, although not for long, as electricity was introduced into the building in 1916. The janitor of the building was wont to hang a lantern out on the gate to light the way to Grange for its members. Degree teams have been at work in the organization since 1909. In 1922, the Silver Anniversary of the Grange was pleasantly observed.

A Junior Grange was organized about 1935. It is but fitting to note here that an Honor Roll with 15 names hangs in Grange Hall as a tribute to the members who went forth to battle and "made their breasts a barricade against the foe." And at this point I would like to give credit to Mrs. Anna J. Bradley of this town, whose rhymed history read at the 50th anniversary of this Grange has been most helpful in preparing this one. I have used it freely.

In closing, let us pause for a moment to look back over the 70 years to the days when the Mattapoissett Grange was an infant. When one speaks of the "good old days," one undoubtedly is referring to the period from right after the Spanish-American War of 1898 to just before World War I, an era when there were no income taxes, no wars, no rumors of war; when life moved most slowly but also most pleasantly.

The auto, the airplane, the radio, the television and the A-bomb were all yet to arrive on the scene. Old Dobbin was a slower means of transportation than an auto but he also was a great deal safer. Highway deaths from traffic were unknown.

Then, too, moral standards and religious fervor were high, far higher than they are today. Crime was at a low ebb. Boys were mischievous, of course, but not vicious nor malicious. Juvenile delinquency, due perhaps to the now old-fashioned woodshed and its paddling, was unknown. There was respect for law and for elderly folks.

Youngsters of 1967 wonder how youth of 1897 could possibly have enjoyed itself without juke boxes, snack bars, motorcycles, television, and high pressure dating. But it certainly did, more slowly, less noisy and not so rambunctious, perhaps, but there was more clean pleasure in the Virginia Reel than in today's "Go-Go" dances; more fun in a hay wagon than in a Thunderbird and as much excitement in a corn-husking bee or a taffy pull as in any night club that ever spit forth its liquor and its smut.

god who looked both forward and backward. Since everything we have to do today is predicated upon the past, let us tonight on this 70th anniversary look back over the years and the folks that have gone by, some for many years now, and build the future of the Grange upon what we can learn from its admirable History.

Mattapoisett Selectmen's Meeting November 10, 1992

A regular meeting of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, November 10, 1992 at 7:04 pm. Present were Chairman John N. DeCosta Jr., Selectman Paul E. Lambalot and Executive Secretary Carol Adams.

After approving the minutes of the November 3 meeting and signing payrolls, bills, licenses, permits and correspondence for the week, Selectmen signed another copy of their appointment of Diane A. Garde as a member of the Mattapoisett Cultural Council for a term to expire in 1995, at Ms. Garde's request. She had misplaced her original appointment certificate and wanted a replacement copy.

Chairman DeCosta next cited the following date reminders for the week:

- November 11 — Town Hall Closed (Veterans Day)
- November 12 — Plymouth County Advisory Committee Meeting (Chairman DeCosta will attend)
- November 13 — Executive Secretary's Meeting in Orleans (Ms. Adams will attend)
- November 16 — Board of Selectmen's Meeting with Finance Committee to discuss Special Town Meeting, 7:00 pm, Town Hall
- November 17 — Special Town Meeting, 7:30 pm, Old Rochester Regional High School.

There being no outgoing correspondence, Chairman DeCosta went over incoming correspondence for the week, beginning with a letter from Barry Perkins, who wished to inform the board of his willingness to serve as the town's appointee on SRPEDD's Economic Development Sub-Committee. Although neither he nor Selectman Lambalot had any objections to Mr. Perkins' serving on the sub-committee, Chairman DeCosta said the board would table the matter until next week, so Selectman Mahoney can be apprised of the appointment.

Water Superintendent William T. Nicholson sent the board a copy of the letter he addressed to the Fairhaven Board of Public Works regarding the connecting of the former Joseph's Olde Tavern Inn located at 143 Fairhaven Road to their sewage system.

According to Mr. Nicholson, the proposed route for the tie-in would be along the edge of Route 6 to the Fairhaven line and into the existing sanitary manhole in Route 6. This request was made in the aftermath of a meeting with potential buyers of the property who are eager to reopen and have agreed to fund tying into the Fairhaven sewage line.

A copy of a letter was next received from the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) to Board of Health Chairman Daniel C. Lee Jr. regarding the town's approval to accept sludge from the Fairhaven Wastewater Treatment Plant at the municipal landfill on Tinkham Hill Road. The sludge will be used to help seal the landfill and must not contain any free draining liquids. The town can continue accepting sludge at the landfill for the purpose through January 1, 1994.

A copy of the minutes of the Council on Aging's October 13 meeting was also sent to Selectmen, along with an accounting of their budget and breakdown of the COA van used to transport seniors in town. Both Chairman DeCosta and Selectman Lambalot openly praised the efforts of the group, saying what a great help they are to the town in providing service and support.

The final piece of incoming correspondence was a letter from Secretary of State Michael J. Connolly commending Town Clerk Lois K. Ennis and her fine election crew for "a virtually flawless effort" in tabulating election results throughout the year. "I'd like to go along in commending Lois (Ennis) and her crew as well," Chairman DeCosta added, adding they were able to efficiently bring in the final tallies of last week's election by 9:15 pm.

There being no discussion items on the Selectmen's agenda, Executive Secretary Carol Adams had the following matters to discuss.

First, the Board of Assessors have announced new hours during this peak time while they are entering the tax abatement process. The Assessors Office will be closed to the general public from 1:00 to 4:00 pm on November 17, November 19, November 24 and December 1, during which time the Assessors will be updating their office records.

Ms. Adams also advised the board and members of the press that the Mattapoisett Cultural Council is still seeking people who are interested in serving on the committee. Presently, there are five members on the committee, who have each been appointed for a single, three-year term. The by-laws state that members cannot serve more than two consecutive terms, so the committee is seeking new people to serve on the council. If anyone is interested, they are advised to contact the Selectmen's Office at 758-4100.

Ms. Adams also received notice from the Division of Marine Fisheries (DMF) that the Antassawamock Beach area in Mattapoisett (past the end of Mattapoisett Neck) is now closed to the taking of shellfish, effective immediately. Ms. Adams said the board will be receiving a formal written notice to this effect later in the week.

Lastly, Ms. Adams asked the board when the best time would be to schedule the annual Christmas Tree lighting to take place at the Shipyard Park gazebo. At Ms. Adams' suggestion, both Selectman Lambalot and Chairman DeCosta agreed on December 9 at 7:00 pm. There will be further information on this event in the weeks ahead.

Chairman DeCosta also reminded everyone of the Veterans Day exercises to be held on November 11 in lieu of the town's participation in the annual Veterans Day parade. Mr. DeCosta said the weather should be fine and the exercises will be held at the flagpole outside of the Old Hammondtown School beginning at 11:00 am.

Also, as of November 10, most residents should have received their tax bills, according to Chairman DeCosta.

A 7:30 pm appointment was next on the agenda with Barry Perkins of the Cable Advisory Committee to update the board on their progress. Mr. Perkins said he wanted to update Selectmen on the status the committee has made in negotiating with Continental Cablevision over service to the

"We want to maintain a good communication between selectmen and the committee," Mr. Perkins said. "Part of the process includes holding a public hearing, and we're now considering what type of form that should take."

Mr. Perkins explained that the committee is ready to meet with a representative from Continental Cablevision and the Board of Selectmen to discuss some of the issues before holding a public hearing. Both Selectman Lambalot and Chairman DeCosta agreed.

Although Mr. Perkins and his committee are essentially pleased with the results of their work, he said there are some things which cannot be negotiated. Among these are the availability of channels and rates for cable subscribers.

But, understandably, Mr. Perkins said you have to be willing to get the most you can for your money.

"Most of the issues we wanted to address have been," Mr. Perkins said. "And we don't want to press certain matters, because there is a sense that the more we ask for, the more it will cost customers."

Chairman DeCosta and Selectman Lambalot agreed that arrangements should be made for a meeting with the entire Cable Advisory Committee, the Board of Selectmen and representatives from Continental Cablevision at everyone's earliest convenience. Chairman DeCosta also closed by commending Mr. Perkins and the committee for their efforts.

"We're very appreciative of the work you're doing," Chairman DeCosta said.

Ms. Adams agreed to schedule a joint meeting of the three parties involved in the near future.

There being no further business to discuss, the board voted to adjourn at 7:44 pm.

Marion Selectmen's Meeting

November 10, 1992

By Chandra Dewing

A meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, November 10, 1992 at 7:00 pm by Chairwoman Loretta B. Schaefer. Also present were Selectman Edwin "Ted" Pratt Jr., Selectman James Dougall, Executive Secretary Ray E. Pickles and Secretary Helene Craver.

Olive E. Harris, Chairwoman of the Marion Recycling Committee, met with the Board to discuss her letter regarding the starting date of the recyclable items banned from landfills and incinerators. The starting date of the ban was proposed to be January 1, 1993, but it has been postponed until at least April 1, 1993.

Problems of this tentative date arose because a sizable increase in the quantity of recyclables collected may not be able to be accommodated. Due to the fact that Marion is a "recycling community," SEMASS does not inspect trash for the banned items. A dependable plan must be developed in order to protect the environment from this vast amount of trash.

Auditor Joseph DeNucci regards waste bans as mandates. The public is urged to ensure that banned or restricted materials, such as glass and tin, are not to be delivered to solid waste facilities. Comprehensive recycling will not be totally successful in Massachusetts until the Commonwealth fully participates in funding the program. But in the meantime, the Department of Public Works (DPW) has done a fine job in educating the community about the need for recycling.

Jacqueline E. Einstein, Commercial Loan Officer of the Citizens Bank of Massachusetts wrote in to inform the board of their acceptance of the removal of buildings on the former Iddings property. The buildings are located on Route 6 and will be donated by the bank to the Town of Marion. The small, modular buildings are too close to the property line and will be moved to the Wastewater Treatment Plant for the purpose of storage. The property is owned by the bank and is for sale at $75,000.

The Southeastern Regional Planning and Economic Development District (SRPEDD) was awarded a $39,000 Strategic Planning Grant from the Massachusetts Incentive Grant Program. The goal of the grant is to prepare an economic development strategy for the smaller towns in the SRPEDD district. Stephen C. Smith, Executive Director of SRPEDD, notified the board that a representative from Marion would be needed for the advisory sub-committee of the strategic plan.

Due to the increasing concern about the poor state of the economy, the plan will strengthen the region's economic base by expanding existing businesses and attracting new growth businesses. The end result of this strategy will be the creation of new and better paying jobs in the region.

Linda C. Lane next requested a license for the existing coastal revetment on her property. As required under the MGL Chapter 91, Waterways Regulation Filing Requirements, all waterfront owners with structures built near the water need licenses.

Michael Joseph Connolly, Secretary of State, informed the Board of Selectmen that he was particularly pleased with the 1992 election cycle. Town clerks and state election officers made history in the challenging, extraordinary work they did during the election. This year 2,586 people showed up to vote — an increased number over the past election. As Chairwoman Loretta B. Schaefer put it, "people are fulfilling their civic duties and voting

Under Board of Health business, the board was notified that in Washington a National Association Board of Health was formulated for twenty-one states. The purpose of the nationwide coalition is to work with one another and lobby directly through their respective representatives. Selectman Pratt was elected President of the Association. The members of the Board will become institutional members of the organization at a fee of $75 each.

On Wednesday, November 18, free flu shots will be given at the Visiting Nurse's Office at the Sippican Elementary School from 1:00 to 3:00 pm.

At 7:45 pm an appointment with Missy Sittler and Elizabeth Beardsley was called to order. They summarized a proposal for affordable elderly housing in the Town of Marion. S&K Properties from New Ipswich, New Hampshire will hopefully begin construction on the project by the spring of 1993. The potential project will have 30 units on 2-1/2 acres of land and be located on Mill Street in front of the Endicott driveway.

Residential elderly (age 55 and up) will pay the market rate of between $400 and $600 per month. However, if they are in a financial situation where they cannot afford the rate, up to one-third of their income can be subsidized to cover the expenses.

There being no further matters to come before the board, the meeting was adjourned at 8:15 pm.

Rochester Voters Reach Consensus

All Three Articles Pass Town Meeting Floor

During a Special Town Meeting held on November 7 at Memorial School, over 80 Rochester voters approved all three warrant articles, allocating funds for the Old Rochester Regional High School (ORRHS), including the previously ill-fated $60,000 architectural and engineering repair study override.

Article 1, which appropriated $30,000 to meet the $1,812,603.53 in general funding for ORRHS, was passed by a majority vote of the Town Meeting floor. The article was submitted to amend Article 3, Line Item 63 of the May 18, 1992 Annual Town Meeting warrant, which did not take into account additional funding for the school's general operating expenses.

The enigmatic $60,000 engineering/architectural override — of which $19,494 is Rochester's share — which was first presented by the Old Rochester Regional School District Committee in May of this year, once again appeared as Article 2 on the Special Town Meeting ballot, having been previously approved by both Mattapoissett and Marion voters.

Although the article has garnered support from Rochester Town Meeting voters, it was shot down twice previously in general elections. For this reason, a recommendation was made at the Special Town Meeting to take a secret ballot on the article, which was turned down.

Once again, the article was passed with a unanimous vote of the Town Meeting floor and now awaits its final fate on the town's upcoming November 18 Special Election Ballot.

The third and final article on the Special Town Meeting warrant was to allow the town to transfer from available funds a sum of money to reduce the tax rate for FY 1993. This article was also readily passed unanimously by Town Meeting voters.

During a brief Board of Selectmen's meeting prior to the Special Town Meeting, Chairman Harry A. Brown Jr. and Selectman Lorraine R.C. Roy promoted Rochester Police Detective Bruce Torres to the rank of Lieutenant with the force. Lt. Torres, who resigned from the full-time service to the town with his K-9 partner, "Coty," effective November 11, was appreciative of the Board's token of esteem.

Selectman also signed and approved:

- an abatement for town ambulance runs
- the closing of Town Hall for November 27 (the day after Thanksgiving)
- gas line permits for 6 Tilson Road and the Congregational Church
- new transfer request forms for the Veterans Office and General Administration
- a waste process equipment grant
- an invoice from Fugro & McClelland, MacGregor & Shea.

Rochester Special Election

Slated for November 18

Rochester residents will go to the polls on Wednesday, November 18 to cast their vote for a new selectman and to decide the fate of the ORRHs override to fund the town's $19,949 share of an architectural/engineering study at the school.

Voters at last week's Special Town Meeting approved the appropriation and it has only to pass the general public to take effect. Both Mattapoisett and Marion have previously approved the measure.

Rochester residents are urged to vote in the Special Election at Town Hall on Wednesday, November 18 between the hours of 12:00 noon to 8:00 pm.

much like the image his name conjures. This neutered, five-year-old male is obedient and well-behaved.

Finally, we have a pure-bred, six-year-old Daschund female. She has been spayed female and is a very gentle and loving dog. Her former owner was recently confined to a nursing home and can no longer care for her.

Animal Umbrella, Inc. also still has plenty of kittens available for adoption, including a new black, 5-month-old who was picked up in a parking lot in Georgia (talk about a southern belle!) She was, unfortunately, not readily accepted in her new home and is in need of other shelter.

There are also still three sets of male, orange tiger-twins, along with a fawn-colored male and female and two all-black females, all about 3 months old.

If you are interested in these or any other "adoptable pets" in the tri-town area, just call either of our local Animal Umbrella, Inc. representatives — Priscilla Thompson at 758-2896 or Mary Lou Kobak at 758-9202 (please note new telephone number).

The group is also in the process of preparing their "wish list" for Christmas, among which includes help from anyone skilled with a chainsaw who could donate some time to cut firewood for the cold, winter months ahead. Please call either Priscilla or Mary Lou if you could help in this matter.

The group is still offering their new sleek, stylish "Animal Umbrella, Inc." T-shirts emblazoned with the dog and cat logo pictured here to anyone who makes a minimum $10 to the organization. For further details, call one of the aforementioned representatives.

The Wanderer supports the efforts of Animal Umbrella, Inc., and would like to remind tri-town residents to watch out for those wandering pets when driving through residential areas.

Book Reviews

The Best American Short Stories 1992

• Robert Stone (editor), Houghton Mifflin, $10.95

"The tale proper," Edgar Allan Poe wrote, "affords unquestionably the fairest field of the exercise of the loftiest talent which can be afforded by the wide domains of mere prose."

With this apt quote, Robert Stone introduces this year's volume of Best American Short Stories, the annual arrival of which many readers anticipate. The satisfactions of the short story are intangible; but like the touch of a soft breeze or an ineffable scent or a fleeting glance that hints of more, so the short story makes you feel you have been let in on a secret or confession.

Most of these writers take up the union between human life and the art of language with the eye of a realist. Reynolds Price, Joyce Carol Oates, Tobias Wolff, Denis Johnson, and others deal with so large a picture of American life and culture that few elements are overlooked, and what those elements might be are not missed.

A Walk Among the Tombstones

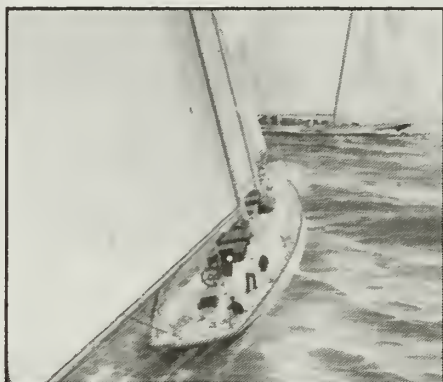

• Lawrence Block, William Morrow and Company, $17.00

It would be difficult to top the impact of Lawrence Block's last book, A Dance to the Slaughterhouse, but it has been done. The latest exploit of Matthew Scudder probes deeper into the festering sores of New York's underbelly than any public record. Police reports may have more crimes per page and the postmortems more gore, but they do not have plots, introspective detectives, or blood-drenched innocent bystanders.

This is not a book for the weak-hearted or weak-stomached. But for that, this book offers a tense plot, expressive writing, and unusual and thoroughly real people with desperate problems.

Mattapoisett Lions Club

BOD Meeting

A Board of Directors Meeting was held at KL Shepley's den this past Monday (November 2) evening. Many items of interest were discussed. Impromptu after dinner board meetings will cease and items of interest will be held for discussion at the normal board meeting.

Paul Stubbs expressed his many thanks for "Bone Crusher Swift" who filled in as a last minute speaker. His topic was timely, keeping with the Halloween Theme and Lion Swift's version of "Snap, Crackle and Pop." The scheduled speaker, Mr. Baron who was to speak on hurricanes, was a bit "under the weather." He has been forecasted for a late winter meeting.

Lion Clay King is chairman for a new fundraising project for the club. He will be passing out "Dine Out Tonight" books for $25 each. This is a trial fundraising idea and we hope all club members will support it.

Upcoming Club Events

- Club Meeting — Wednesday, November 25 at Antone's. Yes, this is Thanksgiving Eve. The menu will be an Italian Buffet. Brian Hancock will be the guest speaker. He is a world class sailor and has sailed the world three times.

- Board Meeting — Monday, December 7 at King Lion Shepley's Shoals, 16 Winnatuxet at 7:00 pm.

- Club Christmas Party — Saturday, December 19 at the Astors in Newport, RI. Contact King Lion King or Lion Don Correia as time is running out for reservations and space is limited. The response so far Learning Difficulties Seminar

Solving our children's learning difficulties is a concern that parents and teachers are constantly addressing. On Tuesday, November 17 from 7:00 to 9:00 pm at the Mattapoisett First Congregational Church on 27 Church Street, a seminar will be given for any interested persons that will offer new perspectives and innovative methods for dealing with weaknesses in language processing.

Lindamood-Bell Learning Processes, with headquarters in San Luis Obispo, California (and Centers in Sacramento, San Diego, Chicago and Kansas City) has provided diagnostic evaluations and treatments for specific learning difficulties since 1975. Directors Phyllis Lindamood and Nanci Bell will present information on their programs.

The Auditory Discrimination in Depth Program, published by Developmental Learning Materials (DLM) is used in helping dyslexic children and children with weak reading and spelling skills and inaccurate pronunciation of words. The Visualizing and Verbalizing for Language Comprehension Program, published by the Academy of Reading Publications, is designed to improve language comprehension, reasoning skills, and expressive language skills. It is common for individuals to gain several grade levels in decoding ability and language comprehension in two to four weeks of intensive treatment.

The Visualizing and Verbalizing for Language Comprehension Program was first presented on the East Coast at the Learning Disabilities Network Conference in April of this year in Boston. Enthusiasm was so great among educators and parents that Lindamood-Bell decided to return to the area this fall and are scheduled to appear again at the spring Network Conference.

For any further information on this seminar or the program, please call Katherine Roberts-Gaudet at 758-9403.

Veterans and their dependents within the local dialing area of the regional office in Boston should continue to use the existing local number found in the telephone directory. Old Hammondtown School

Once again the sixth graders at Old Hammondtown School are collecting nickel deposit cans and bottles to help raise funds for their annual ski trip to King Ridge. Collection days are every Thursday. Returnables can be dropped off in the lobby at Old Hammondtown between 8:00 am and 3:00 pm. Receipts from this effort will be used toward the bus charters. Last year's recycling campaign was a big success, thanks to the generosity of our community.

Future fundraisers include an annual baked goods sale at the school Christmas concert and a family spaghetti supper scheduled for January.

NuMaid — Making A "Clean Sweep"

Driving down Route 6 in Fairhaven, it's difficult not to notice a cache of little stores dubbed the Lifestyles Plaza. These eye-catching storefronts across from G. Bourne Knowles boast an array of thriving businesses. Not least among these is NuMaid, a fledgling residential and commercial cleaning business owned and run by Steve Robillard.

Mr. Robillard is certainly excited not only about his successful business, but also about being located in the high traffic plaza.

It was through the invitation of his friend, Tom Bliss, that Mr. Robillard decided to move into a vacant office space near his friend's Lifesport establishment. Since there was a vacant spot and Mr. Bliss knew his friend needed the exposure, he contacted him and helped to make the transition a smooth one.

Mr. Robillard founded NuMaid in September of 1991 after a long stretch of unemployment. His six-year stint with the Coast Guard left him hesitant about a career goal, but it was his father's sound advice which lead to doing something he enjoyed, albeit something he wasn't sure would survive.

But with a solid business plan and personal motivation, he got the business up and running.

After taking out his first advertisement, he waited patiently and ten days later got a reply, soon followed by another. Today — a year after starting the company — his two teams of employees go through about 30 households a week.

"We use aerobic cleaning," Mr. Robillard explained. "All my employees are in good physical condition. They have to be to keep up with the workload."

The business' name, NuMaid, is an apt play on words, according to Mr. Robillard. Every day, he said, is "newly made," and that's very much how he views both business and life in general.

Even though Mr. Robillard has an expert crew hustling everyday, it doesn't mean he gets to sit around barking orders, either. The owner visits each prospective customer personally and gives them a free estimate based on the size of the home and work involved. His team of workers arrive at each job with their own supplies. The homeowner need only supply a place to clean.

According to Mr. Robillard, the average house will take about two hours to clean. His workers all take pride in their work, and he is, understandable, proud of them.

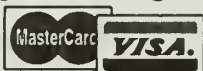

Mr. Robillard sees new opportunity in being located at the busy Lifestyles Plaza. With day-to-day life changing at an incredible pace, he also sees more business opportunities for his services. People just don't have as much time to keep up with household chores, although most would like to. Mr. Robillard's unique service affords people a chance to work and/or enjoy their favorite recreation while his skilled employees clean their home.

Part of the allure of the plaza, according to Mr. Robillard, is that very "escape" motif. When customers come to the plaza to patronize a restaurant, hair stylist, sporting goods store, gift shop, or fitness center, they can make arrangements to have their house cleaned as well. Mr. Robillard said that while a customer spends a couple of hours in the plaza, his workers can get the job done in time for them to return to a clean house.

He also likes how all the businesses support each other in the plaza. Besides his friend at Lifesport, there is the Fairhaven Fitness Center, Personal Touch beauty salon, Debbie's Courtyard Kitchen, Total Video Productions, Barley Chiropractic and across from them is Babette's gift shop.

Mr. Robillard will be running a monthly drawing whereby the winner will receive a professional home cleaning for free. He also looks forward to starting a fully automated office soon, so customers can see his cleaning crew at work firsthand and make an appointment when he's not there to service them.

As NuMaid's owner/manager, Steve Robillard remains full of energy, innovation and business savvy. With a bright future ahead, his days are all sure to be "newly made."

On Wednesday, October 28, the Junior Girl Scouts in Mattapoisett, Troops 29 and 99, celebrated the birthday of Juliette Low. Ms. Low, who is responsible for bringing Girl Scouting to the United States, was born on October 31, 1860. Celebrating her birthday has become a tradition with many Girl Scout Councils throughout the country.

In Mattapoisett, 29 Girl Scouts from Grades 4 - 6 met at Antone's Restaurant for a pizza supper and dessert of a beautiful cake with the traditional Girl Scout emblem in frosting on top. The girls were joined by the voices of 10 chaperones in singing Happy Birthday to their founder.

Following dinner, the girls and chaperones attended the ORR Girls Volleyball game against Case High School. They were given the honor of opening the varsity game by singing "America the Beautiful," which they did very well ... even the high notes. Although the ORR Girls Team was unable to beat the team from Case, they played a thrilling game which the Junior Girl Scouts enjoyed.

We would like to thank Antone's for the great food and service and for the patience they exhibited. We would also like to thank the ORR Volleyball Team for inviting us to attend and giving us the honor of singing for them. In addition, we would like to thank Athletic Director John Rodriguez for providing admission and special seating at the game.

A final and very special thank you goes out to the parents who chaperoned and supervised the happy occasion.

Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School

Student Council Elections

In early October, the Student Council at Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School in Rochester kicked off what should be one of their most exciting years ever. Election of officers was one of the first events with three juniors being elected to office under a revamped constitution. From Offset Printing Sharon Tripanier was elected President and Heather Brassil, Vice President and from Cosmetology Andrew Perry was elected Secretary. Michael K. McCormack, a Data Processing Shop instructor, returned for a second year as adviser.

The middle of October found Officers Sharon Tripanier and Heather Brassil and Chairpersons Jen Hart and Cory Hanks attending the Massachusetts Association of Student Councils Officers' Workshop in Marlboro. Areas covered in the day long workshop included organization, parliamentary procedure, fundraising, increasing school spirit, working with school administration and a host of other topics.

The Student Council wrapped up October with Spirit Week and a very successful Pep Rally. Working close in hand with Old Colony's Cheerleaders, the students had daily events designed to build school spirit and decorated the halls, bulletin boards and the cafeteria for the Homecoming Dance.

Old Colony VICA Chapter

Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School continues its active participation in Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) for the 1992-1993 academic year.

VICA — an organization for trade, industrial, technical and health occupation students — offers its members numerous learning and leadership opportunities including skills competitions on all levels from local to international in 38 areas. Old Colony will begin its local competition in January.

Changes in the Mail

Some of our readers have noticed a few changes in the mail in the past few weeks.

The Wanderer has been expanding its circulation and mailings in Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester, as well as across the United States.

Several of our subscribers have expressed concern at the cost of mailing individual subscriptions at first-class rates. These subscriptions cost between $1.21 and $1.44 weekly to mail ($72. a year). Just this week, our subscription base has changed from individual first class pieces to a bulk rate.

To mail these at the bulk rate we needed a 200 piece mailing. Now that we have enough subscribers, we can expand to a third class bulk rate which costs about 53¢ an issue to mail ($28. a year). With the new bulk mailing we will be increasing the subscription cost to $28 a year/$14 for six months. Those who have already paid for a subscription will not be charged anything additional.

We have included a convenient subscription form here so that if you are interested in subscribing, you need just return it with payment and you will receive a copy each week.

Our rural route mailings have also increased over the past few months. On some weeks, as our budget allows, we have printed additional copies of The Wanderer and mailed to more rural routes than listed. Our goal is to produce enough copies to mail to each rural route customer in Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester every week. The cost of a mailing of this size would be $1,037 a week ($51,850 a year).

Until we can afford to make such a financial reach, we will have to continue mailing to as many customers as we can each week and increase these numbers slowly. The routes to which we mail to each week are listed at the top of the inside back page. We will continue to rotate these routes on a weekly basis so that everyone is equally served.

We thank you for your continued interest and support.
